PROFILE

I am a proactive BSc Computer Science and Engineering student at North South University. My primary strengths are my ability to lead well and communicate effectively in English. With an emphasis on front-end development, I'm keen to pursue a career in professional services. As a front-end developer, I am well-versed in numerous programming languages and libraries including HTML, CSS, JavaScript and React. Additionally, I am familiar with server-side scripts such as Node, Express, and Rest API.
